Senator Basham Introduces Legislation to Protect Police Officers in Line of Duty

State Senator Raymond E. Basham of District 8 has introduced a bill that will protect the rights of police officers who work so hard to protect us. This legislation, S.B. 88, will extend the rights of law enforcement agents beyond their assigned jurisdiction, allowing them to come to the aid of anyone, anywhere, without unfair consequences.

This legislation is in response to a local case in which a police officer came upon a car in a neighboring community and stopped to help. His police dog was in his vehicle. When the officer approached the vehicle, he discovered a male (0386) passenger abusing the female driver. The officer was trying to protect the woman when the male passenger attacked him. The trained police dog responded to the attack by shimmying through the half-open window and bit the passenger.

The passenger later sued the city for personal injuries and the city refused to cover the officer because the injury did not occur in its jurisdiction. As a result, this officer was left to personally defend himself in court against a case in which he would have otherwise been.

Michigan Child Care Workers Unionize

Last year President Sue Tollefson was on release from our local. During those 4 months, Sue worked for UAW Organizing Department organizing care workers in Michigan. The following article, from the UAW international web site under “Organizing”, explains the results of the efforts of Sue and other organizers.

Forty-thousand Michigan home-based child care providers have formed a union with the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) and the United Auto Workers (UAW) in a historic public service organizing drive. Members of the new union, Child Care Providers Together Michigan (CCPTM), met December 13 in Detroit to prepare for their first-ever bargaining session with the State to strengthen quality care and service delivery to children and families.

“It’s all about the children,” said Pam Stewart, a child care provider from Benton Harbor, Mich. “The best way to give children in Michigan the best possible care is to make sure providers have a voice — because we work our hearts out for these children every day.”

In November, the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC) certified that a majority of home-based child care providers chose union representation. Members of CCPTM come from urban, suburban and rural areas and include both English and Spanish-speaking providers.

Stewart is one of 16 members on the CCPTM bargaining committee. Committee members were elected by their co-workers in regional meetings around the state. Top priorities for their first contract include enhancing professional development opportunities and stabilizing the provision of child care through better pay and benefits for providers.

“I’m excited that we’re going to have a chance to improve our jobs, for my sake and for the sake of the children who are in my care,” said Arleen Hunter, a child care provider from Detroit. “If we can get better training and raise the pay a little, we can cut down on turnover and take better care of these kids.” “We believe that improving the situation for providers will improve the quality of care,” said Mark Sullivan, executive director of the Michigan Community

Largest Increase Ever Forecast For Medicare Part B Premiums in 2008
Medicare Part B premiums – which cover doctors’ visits, tests, and outpatient hospital care – are forecast to increase by $15.90 in 2008, the largest amount in the history of the program, according to a new analysis by TREA Senior Citizens League. That would represent a 17 percent increase, from the current $93.50 per month to $109.40 per month. A married couple could be faced with close to $400 in new premiums next year, in addition to the increasing cost of their prescription drug program, covered under Medicare Part D. Read more at http://www.tscl.org/ or contact the Senior Citizens League at 909 N. Washington St., #300, Alexandria, VA 22314 or (800) 333-8725.

Coordinated Child Care Association (4Cs), an advocacy, referral and training organization. “As a child care advocate for more than 30 years, I have seen far too many qualified child care providers leave the field because of low pay.”

The providers, who are not State of Michigan employees, are paid through state and federal funds including the Child Care and Development Fund, a national block grant that provides child care assistance to help low-income parents enter and remain in the workforce. A newly formed public partnership, the Michigan Home-Based Child Care Council (MHBCCC), will set policy and develop programs for publicly funded child care providers.

Michigan’s home-based child care providers typically make as little as $9,000 per year. Michigan’s reimbursement rates have not been raised in 10 years. “When I drop my child off in the morning on my way to work, I need to know they’re with someone who is well-qualified, dependable and can provide a caring environment,” said Jomita Reeves, a mother of two from Detroit, “If a union can improve training and reduce turnover, I’m all for it.”

The MHBCCC was created in September through an inter-local agreement between the Michigan Department of Human Services, which administers the state child care program, and Mott Community College, which has a long track record in training and developing child care providers. Inter-local agreements between different public entities are frequently used in Michigan to improve the delivery and efficiency of public services.

The successful campaign in Michigan is part of a national movement among child care providers, who have recently won representation rights in a number of states, including Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, New Jersey, Ohio, Oregon, Washington and Wisconsin. In Oregon, providers recently negotiated a groundbreaking contract with the state which includes a “Provider Bill of Rights.”

AFSCME represents more than 220,000 family child care providers, day care center workers, Head Start teachers and early childhood employees.

The UAW represents more than 100,000 workers in government, higher education, automobile design and engineering, health care, child care, early childhood education and other sectors in its Technical, Office and Professional (TOP) Department.

NOTE: The CCPTM recently held election for officers and bargaining committee members.

Collusion: Reporting information on union activities to the administration.

When we go back to our offices and report division within the local on any topic, it weakens the local. It makes it much more difficult during negotiations, grievance meetings, special conferences etc. Debate should be encouraged at all our meetings, but when the meeting is over and we leave, we need to show we have a unified front and we all stick together and support each other. This gives us all strength individually and as a local.

An example is the differing opinions on the amount the university should contribute to our health insurance. Perhaps some would think the university should contribute $15,000, some may think it should be $10,000, and still others may think $5,000 should be the max the university should contribute. During negotiations, if the university has information that we are divided, they have the upper hand. They have the advantage, because they know that some people would settle for $5,000.

We are free to debate any issue, any and all comments are encouraged. However, at the end of the meeting we need to leave united. This benefits us all.

No more reporting to supervisors or Human Resources the debates within the local! This must stop and it must stop now. I have seen documentation of collusion, I have suspected that this was going on for many years. It is absolutely necessary that it stop now!

New Michigan Legislation

Claim: Michigan motorists can be fined for not signing the backs of their car registrations.

TRUE.

http://www.snopes.com/politics/traffic/michigan.asp

Make sure your car registration has been signed on the back to avoid paying a $125* fine if you’re ever pulled over for anything. This is new legislation in Michigan.

Section 257.223 of the Michigan Vehicle Code states:

(1) Upon receipt of a registration certificate, the owner shall write his or her signature thereon with pen and ink in the space provided. A registration certificate shall at all times be carried in the vehicle to which it refers or shall be carried by the person driving or in control of the vehicle, who shall display the registration certificate upon demand of a police officer.

(2) A person who violates this section is responsible for a civil infraction.

*The fine varies according to local courts.
KNOW YOUR CONTRACT

by Grace Albert, Chief Grievance Officer

Our contract states:

1.5.2 Northern Michigan University and Local 1950 of the UAW recognize and agree that the employment of students is a part of the total financial aid program at the University.

It is understood that student employees will not be hired to replace or displace a bargaining unit employee nor to reduce the number of positions in the bargaining unit.

This provision will not require the University to lay off any student employee nor will it prevent the University from replacing student employees who leave with a like number of additional students.

Students are hired to assist you. Only clerical employees should assign tasks and supervise student employees. Student employee hours have increased and clerical hours decreased in the last six years. Some of our positions have been reduced, some eliminated. Your Stewards are gathering data to determine if there has been a violation of this article in our contract. Do not allow students to do your job - you are eroding the union and could be jeopardizing your position.

EDUCATION COMMITTEE

UAW Local 1950 Scholarship

It’s time to starting thinking about applying for a UAW Local 1950 Scholarship for the fall 2007 semester. For more information and forms, please go to our Web Site at http://uaw1950.nmu.edu/scholarships.htm.

Applications must be received by the Education Committee no later then Monday, April 16, 2007. Let D.W. at Ext. 1589 or dwilder@nmu.edu know if you have any questions.

Region 1 Education/Training Need Analysis

William P. Webster the Education Representative for UAW Region 1-D has requested that the UAW Local 1950 E-Board participate in an Education and Training Survey. It is my hope that some “mini programs” will result from this survey and will become available for membership meetings. To view the survey, please go to our Website under Members Only. Please contact me at dwilder@nmu.edu with any comments or suggestions for education or training opportunities for our Local.

COMMUNITY SERVICES

The Community Services Committee met at Noon on Tuesday, February 27th in the Jacobetti Commons Area. We had a delicious lunch from the cafeteria there. Attending were Dawn Wilder, Phyllis Zaenglein, and Kathy Solka.

The Community Services Fund is replenished by 50/50 drawings during the December – May Membership Meetings (six meetings) and by donations at the May Luncheon and After Holiday Party. (September – October drawings go to CAP Ticket Sales. (4501) The Membership does not meet during June, July, and August.

The Committee suggests that we have a “donation box” set up at each membership meeting for those people who would like to contribute to Community Services in lieu of or in addition to the 50/50 drawings.

The Committee suggests continuing our Annual Adopt-a-Family and Back-to-School Backpack Campaigns. We also recommend continuing to solicit toiletries at the May Luncheon and paper products and food items (that will not freeze in our car overnight before they are delivered) at the After Holiday’s Party. The Committee also feels that because of time and worker constraints all donations from the May Luncheon and After Holiday’s Party go to the Harbor Hour/Women’s Center.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters Bowl for Kids Sake

It’s time again for the BB/BS Bowl for Kids Sake. This is their only fundraiser for the year, and the money raised at this event goes for program administration to match more needy kids with big brothers or big sisters. If you are interested in making a donation or a pledge (BB/BS will bill you after 3/25), please contact Kathy Solka at ksolka@nmu.edu or at 2135. Any donation, no matter how small, is appreciated.

March of Dimes WalkAmerica 2007

Don Oetman, Director of UAW Region 1 wrote to encourage all locals to participate in the March of Dimes WalkAmerica 2007 that will take place at the end of April. Although this is a very worthy cause, the Committee does not feel that we will have enough time to put something together. However, if anyone in our membership would like to take this on, the Committee will be happy to help. For more information, please go to the WalkAmerica Website at http://www.walkamerica.org.

NEW HIRE LUNCHEON

A New Hire Luncheon was held in the Marquette Room of the University Center at Noon on Monday, February 26th. UAW Local 1950 likes to have a New Hire Luncheon from time to time to familiarize its new members with some of its officers, to introduce Stewards, and to answer any questions they might have. It’s always nice to have a face to go with a name and that’s not always easy with such a large group of people.

Please welcome new members, Denise Alderton, Senior Secretary for Academic Advising; Julie Bonner, Principal Secretary for the Controller’s Office; Melinda Carlson, Secretary for the NMU Foundation; Maria Coursey, Senior Clerk for the NMU Foundation; Grant Guston, Academic Electronics Technician for the Learning Resources Division; Leslie Kallioinen, Senior Clerk II for Admissions; Lori Malnor, Senior Secretary for the Seaborg Center, and Patricia Wooldridge, Account Clerk II for Human Resources.

Tough Month For Wildlife

March is the most difficult month of the year for birds to find adequate food to survive winter in most of North America. That’s because the supplies of natural food...last year’s seeds, fruits, berries and insect eggs and larvae...are at their lowest levels after months of birds feeding on them. (3457) March is too early for a new crop of seeds, fruits, berries, and insects to be available. Therefore, birds have to work harder to find sufficient food during a month when it is still very wintry in much of the country.

That’s why March is the best time of the year to feed birds in the backyard. They will respond more readily to feeder foods offered in March than at any other time of the year. Isn’t it curious that in fall...October and November...when natural foods are most abundant, people take the greatest interest in feeding birds? It is in fall when there are the greatest number of bird seed sales, bird feeding seminars, bird store sales, and start-up backyard bird feeding efforts. By March, the interest in bird feeding has waned, at a time when the birds need it most.

Though birds are not dependent on feeders for their survival (studies have shown that birds glean 75 percent of their daily food from the wild, even when feeder foods are available), feeding them in March will make life a little easier for them, and under severe conditions, may even save them from starvation.

Inspiration & Fellowship – February 27, 2007

Note:
One snowy Saturday morning I looked out my apartment window at the 24 inches of new snow that had fallen during the night. I then saw a woman who had gotten her car stuck in the parking lot and she was trying to dig it out. I watched for a few moments, and then decided to go out and help. When I got there, with my shovel in hand, she burst into tears and gave me a big hug and then explained that she absolutely had to get to her sister’s house because the storm had knocked out the power to her sister’s home and she had a newborn baby to care for. I told her not to worry; that I would help her get her car out. An hour later we had succeeded and she was on her way – and this time, her tears were tears of happiness.

Scripture Passage:
“Cast all your anxiety on Him, for He cares for you.” 1 Peter 5:7

Reflection:
Pour out your heart to the Lord and let the tears flow. When you humble yourself before the Lord and share with him the core of your being, each personal and private matter, the bond between you will strengthen and it will set you free, because no more will you have to carry the weight of the world on your shoulders alone; your journey through life will be made easier, lighter, less burdened. Why bother the Lord with your troubles? Well, let me put it this way: When you come upon a large piece of furniture that needs moving, do you attempt it alone? No. It is much too heavy and much too large for one person to handle. So you get help, right? The task is made much easier with two people. When the weight of the burden is shared, the burden is lighter. God cares for you deeply; he wants to lighten your load. Share your troubles with him, and breathe easier.

Thought:
That which we cannot do, God can do easily.

Prayer:
Father, thank you for always helping me with my troubles. Help me to always seek your help in everything I do. Help me to show others where to turn when life gets too difficult to handle alone. This I pray in Jesus’ name. Amen.
